project is successful, the Stanford group would also like to construct a massive, floating hydrogen power plant in the ocean to provide energy to an entire city. This 'floating hydrogen city' would also serve as a home for an independent community of hydrogen "citizens," who would earn their living from energy recycling.Q: How do I load NSCalendar and NSDateComponents into core data? I have a Core Data Database that is used as a calendar for scheduling my users. I already implemented a structure that can be stored in the database as a single entity. But I have a problem implementing it in 82157476af
